On December 19 the Dallas Rotary Club held their annual Children's Christmas Shopping Spree in a new way. Because of the virus, it was conducted as a "drive-thru, pick up gifts" event. Rotary Chairperson Kim Reynolds and her hard-working committee contacted the parents and guardians of the school-selected children, and volunteers shopped without the children, but by using their wish lists to ensure that every child would have a safe and Merry Christmas.

Many grateful families came to the Lake-Lehman High School parking lot to pick up their children's gifts from Santa and Dallas

Dallas Rotary Children's Christmas event took on a new look

Rotary's hearty volunteers who braved temperatures in the teens to make sure that the 45 children from Lake-Lehman, Dallas and North-west School Districts would have a "wishes come true" holiday.

The committee and shoppers did an incredible job navigating their way through adjustments and changes during these challenging times to make this special day possible for the children.

The Rotarians were joined by Joan Hockenbury, the Manager of McDonald's in Shavertown, who gave each child a warm knit hat, a gift card for a free happy meal, and a bag stuffed with other goodies. Families drove in, one by one, to have the Rotarians and Santa load up their trunks with very large colorful bags full of clothing and a toy or two to give these children the Christmas experience that many of us had as children.

As the children spotted Santa, they bounced up and down in the back seats (as much as their seat belts would allow) when they saw that he had big bags of gifts "just for them," and parents in the front seats were expressing their thanks to Rotary for the help they so desperately needed this year. One parent confessed that there would have been no Christmas gifts at their house this year if Rotary had not stepped in to help. There were smiles all around!

Working together, the Dallas Rotary was able to make a difference in the lives of these precious little children.

News from the Back Mountain Memorial Library

The recent alarming spike in coronavirus cases has led to the Library being temporarily closed to the public. Check our website for updates on our status. We will continue to provide books and materials to our patrons through curbside pick-up. Items throughout the Luzerne County Library System will still be available, as well. Request your items by calling the Library and speaking to a staff member, or you can place your holds from home. We can provide a selection from a specific author or a certain genre if you're not sure what to request. A list of our newest books can be found on our website. Patrons are limited to 7 holds at a time, and must have a valid library card to request items. Once your items are ready for pick-up, you have 2 days to come for them. Use the side door for pick-ups. You can also call from the parking lot and a staff member will deliver them to your car.

The Children's Room offers "Book Bundle" curbside selections for those who are not sure what to select for their children. Answer a few simple questions and we will put together a bundle to suit their interests.

The Slightly Read Bookstore will continue to be open, but with reduced hours and days. We recommend that you call before coming to verify that they will be able to serve you.

If you are stuck inside by the weather—or by the pandemic—try our cloudLibrary e-books system. Follow the step-by-step instructions on our website to download the free app to your device, and you'll never be caught with nothing to read again!

The Library renovations are now well underway. We look forward to seeing all the planning, fund-raising, and hard work result in a beautiful, more spacious, more handicapped-accessible building. We think this is a fitting celebration of the Library's 75th Anniversary, by preparing for the next 75 years of service to the community!

Those patrons who are members of the First Reader Book Club or our Silver Screen DVD Club should renew their memberships for 2021 now. The Book Club provides a dedicated selection of novels and non-fiction, and the DVD Club has the latest releases of current movies.

The giant gingerbread house that graces the Children's Room has led to our Great Gingerbread Challenge. This season, make a "gingerbread" creation inspired by a favorite book. Bake it or draw it or craft it, take a picture and we'll post it on the BMML Children's Room Facebook page for others to see. Get creative and let us see what you can build!

Lions Club bell ringing with Santa

The Dallas lions Club, as they have for several years, rang the bells for the Salvation Army. The bell-ringing took place during Thanksgiving week and was more productive than ever. Last year the club received a plaque for the second highest amount collected for the local Salvation Army and this year the collection was considerably higher.

Because of the pandemic so many people obviously are acutely aware of the needs of the Salvation Army and were even more generous this year. The Kettles were placed between City Market and the Wine & Spirits store in Dallas.

Residents of the Meadows received a special gift

Christmas came early for residents at the Meadows Apartments in Dallas.

It was not Santa who brought them gifts, but 14 year old Juliet Price. She had been collecting donations for this project since before her birthday last month. Her birthday request was donations for these gift bags and her friends and family donated generously.

Juliet made ornaments for each of the 120 residents. Every gift bag also contained a hand-made card, some peppermint candy, and a few small gifts. She decorated each bag and filled them with all of the goodies, then took them to the residents at the apartment building.

Juliet left the gift bags at each person's door. Hoping to bless their Christmas when they opened the door to find the beautifully decorated bag full of gifts.

Juliet has been organizing projects like this for a few years. Always trying to bless others. She would not be able to reach so many if it was not for the help of her wonderful friends and family. Juliet says that, "She hopes that others will be inspired by what she does, to do similar projects." Juliet has already started planning her next project for the spring! Shown in photo, Juliet is surrounded by gift bags that were given to the residents for the Holiday.

Legion Logbook

Daddow-Isaacs Dallas American Legion Post 672 did not meet in December due to precautions in the building. The covid epidemic is becoming a detriment for all of the Post activities. However, I hope that on December 7, you remembered its significance. Let us never forget December 7, 1941. Anyone such as myself who was young enough to remember the WWII years, as well as those veterans who fought and are still living, will never forget those perilous times.

The one significant event that occurred this month was the ceremony of Wreaths Across America. The local ceremony was held at various cemeteries, the County Courthouse, and the VA under the auspices of the Legion Riders of Luzerne County. This tradition began as one man's annual tribute to our veterans. Morrill Worcester owner of Worcester Wreath Company of Harrington, Maine, as a 12-year old won a trip to Washington, D.C. and visited Arlington Cemetery which made a lasting impression upon him. He realized later on, that his fortune was due to the values of the nation and the veterans who made the ultimate sacrifice for their countrymen. In 1992 he had a surplus of wreaths and he decided to put them on the graves at Arlington Cemetery. Many individuals and corporations helped. This went on for several years until 2005 when it gained national attention. Many wanted to help at Arlington and also national and state cemeteries across the USA and the Patriot Guard Riders became an instrumental part. In 2007 Wreaths Across America was founded. In 2014 over 700,000 wreaths with thousands of volunteers continued the practice. Today over 2,100 locations in the U.S., at sea, and abroad have received wreaths. Donations are accepted and Post 672 has supported this endeavor. Now, isn't that a nice, positive story to end our year with?

Smile! I'll have one more try. From the American Legion Magazine: An Army recruit was assigned guard duty at 2 A.M., but couldn't help nodding off. He awakened to find the officer of the day standing before him. Remembering the penalty for sleeping on duty, he kept his head bowed for another moment, then looked up reverently and said "Amen". (Well, I tried).

Tentatively, our next monthly meeting will be on January 12 at 7:30 P.M. Commander Darlene Kupstas invites all Post members and prospective members to attend. Hope everyone had a MERRY CHRISTMAS and wishes for all the best in the NEW YEAR!

Get your vaccine shot when available and God Bless America.

New Year's Financial Resolutions

By Martin A. Federici, Jr.,
CEO of MF Advisers, Inc. &
MF Tax & Accounting, Inc.

Let's face facts: after the holiday season shopping is finished, most of us find that our bank accounts are somewhat smaller than we hoped they would be. With that in mind, here are 10 steps everyone can utilize to start off the new year on a smarter note money-wise and hopefully stick with throughout the new year (goodbye 2020!):

1. Stop getting nicked & dimed by everyone – and don't start doing it to everyone else. Why let stores, friends, family, etc., take advantage of you when it comes to money? Be fair about money matters and don't get taken advantage of by anyone. Instead, use coupons, negotiate better deals / terms (especially when it comes to insurances and large purchases), and ask firmly but nicely (mind your manners!) for the money you're owed. Please stop drawing the short straw in these situations – you deserve better.

2. Put a budget in place AND stick to it. No sense in spending your money without a clue – let's figure out how to better use this green stuff, eh? Nothing will help you do that better than really seeing what money comes in the door and goes out. No excuses either – plenty of cheap and easy to use software/apps/tools that can help you create/track your budget. After you do this, you can figure out where you need to improve and work towards those goals.

3. Put a financial plan in place AND stick to it. See #2 above. Make sure your investments/tax situations are where they need to be with your goals in mind ... whatever those goals may be.

4. Eliminate terrible debt. The big-box store plastic is probably the #1 problem for most people. The only acceptable debts (if the interest rates are reasonable) are mortgages, car loans, home improvement loans, business loans, and college loans. Negotiate lower rates whenever possible – no need to pay more interest than you should.

5. Get a sufficient emergency fund in place NOW. This way, you won't resort to using plastic when you have one of those "uh-oh" moments. Ideally, save 3 mos. of income for starters...if you can get up to 1 year of income saved for your "rainy day" fund, that would be best.

6. Improve your health ... yes, this affects your money! We'd all like to spend less money on medications/prescriptions, doctor's visits (except your regular checkups), etc. Eating better (you can contact me about this too – I have some knowledge to share) and regular exercise (try to start somewhere – even if it's just taking a walk to start the day, after lunch, and/or after dinner) are truly your financial "friends". If you make some healthy changes, you will spend less money for many types of insurances going forward and enjoy a better quality of life. Who doesn't want to have more money and be healthier?

7. Take care of the (big) things you have. No sense in spending money frequently on big-ticket items. Make them last for a while. Maintenance is key, especially when it comes to vehicles, boats, your home, properties, etc.

8. Be satisfied with what you have. Too many people play that silly game called "Keeping up with the Joneses". Having the latest big-screen TV in every room in your house is not wise if you don't have enough saved for retirement or for little Suzie's college education. Prioritize the things that really matter – delay instant gratification instead of having the "I need this yesterday" mentality that gets far too many people into financial trouble.

9. Avoid doing dumb things. What I mean is that people take legal action against other people every day, so refrain from giving the sue-happy crowd any reason to come after you. There's a reason there are a lot of attorneys in the good ol' U.S. of A. .... and, last (but not least) ...

10. Learn something new financially every day. Even if it seems like something trivial, the more you educate yourself about financial matters, the better financial decisions you'll tend to make. Hire a qualified financial professional who educates you on a regular basis – this 10th step (if you hire the right advisor) can easily help you with the previous 9 steps!

Happy New Year everyone – let's make 2021 the best (financial) year yet!

Your dollars spent in locally-owned businesses have three times the impact on our local economy.

Locally owned businesses are the businesses we count on for donations to our local organizations and contribute dollars to our local causes.

A marketplace made-up of many small businesses ensures lower prices over the long-term and local business owners work hard to fulfill the needs of the people within our community every day.
